HARE O' THE DAWG
Saturday, June 1, 8:00

Formed in 2016, Hare o' the Dawg was spawned from a common love of improvisational string music. Drawing inspiration from old-time music such as swing, bluegrass and gypsy jazz, Hare o' the Dawg has pleased crowds with original music as well as arrangements of tunes from the likes of Django Reinhardt, David Grisman, Jerry Garcia and anything with a bluegrass flavor. Most of the band are multi-instrumentalists, and instrument swapping is a common theme of our music.

A TASTY BLEND OF NON-GMO AMERICANA STRING MUSIC SPRINKLED WITH HINTS OF BLUEGRASS AND GYPSY JAZZ.

MICHAEL GORDON (Guitar, Mandolin, Banjo) MARK ABRAMOWITZ (Upright Bass) SHERYL MUNOZ (Vocals, Percussion) ALEX MUNOZ (Guitar, Cuban Laud, Puerto Rican Cuatro, Vocals) BOOMER HESS (Guitar, Dobro, Harmonica, Unusual Percussives).

"Super-good Hare O'the Dawg are! Saw them at Zen Mystery Café before the wall fell down & was blown away by them! People will thank themselves after they get their butts to Luna Star to see them."

- Mary Larrick

Acoustic Sundays at JohnMartin's – May 23

What a fun evening we had last Sunday! Our show starting off with "Mr. 12-string" Chuck Ellis entertaining us with his original songs. music. Folk music raconteur Phil Cole gave us a set of classic folk and jazz.

Rick Lumpkin returned to Acoustic Sundays after being gone for awhile, joined by Robert Shaw on bass and alternating with him on lead vocals. Singer/songwriter Burt Bruton delighted the room with his original material.

Two new players made their debut on our stage. Malcolm Carter and his electric guitar gave us fine set of popular and original music in a distinctive style. Miguel Tucen, on acoustic guitar, performed some popular songs and one of his own. We hope both of them will come back soon.

We thought Steve Bass thought was closing the with a terrific set of Dylan songs. Then a JMIP patron named Andrew asked if he could play one song. Steve graciously loaned him his guitar. Glad he did!

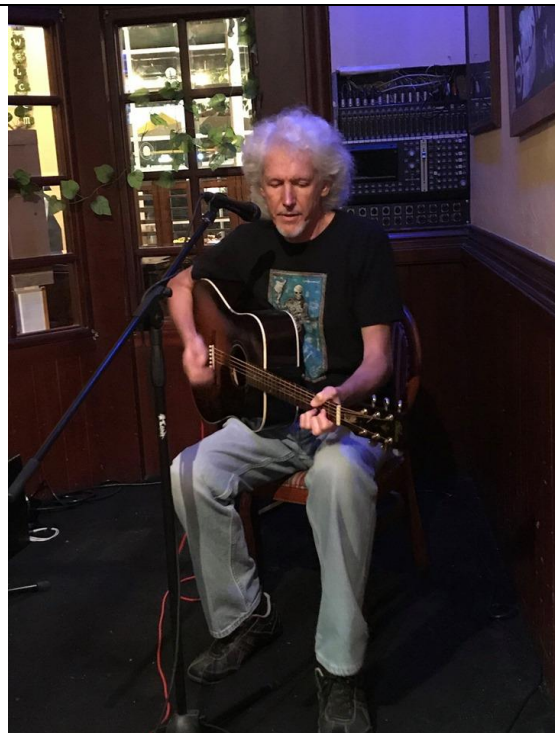

Thanks to all of our performers for contributing their time and talents to our show, to our audience for enjoying them, and to the management and staff of JohnMartin's Irish Pub for all of their support of live music in Miami.

Looking forward to seeing you this coming Sunday.

- Dave Cohen
